

Collection Request Form

Inuit are the Rights Holders of Nunavut's cultural heritage. This means Inuit have the authority to control, maintain, and access cultural heritage collections from Nunavut. All requests to work with these collections must respect the rights of Indigenous Peoples, as outlined in:

- The United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (UNDRIP)¹
- The Truth and Reconciliation Commission's (TRC) Calls to Action
- The Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls (MMIWG) Final Report's Calls to Justice

To ensure respect for these rights, we emphasize the importance of Indigenous Data Governance.² Research on Nunavut's cultural heritage must:

- Include Inuit perspectives and knowledge
- Align with Inuit Tapariit Kanatami's (ITK) National Inuit Strategy for Research (NISR)
- Follow the Circumpolar Inuit Protocols for Ethical and Equitable Engagement
- Adhere to any specific protocols and guidelines established at the community and regional levels.

For more guidance on implementing UNDRIP in heritage work, please refer to the "Moved to Action: Activating UNDRIP in Canadian Museums Report", commissioned by the Canadian Museums Association.

Inuit Heritage Trust

Inuit Heritage Trust (IHT) was established through the Nunavut Agreement to represent the interests of Nunavut Inuit in cultural heritage. All requests to access, research, or loan collections from Nunavut are reviewed and approved by IHT's Board of Trustees.
